Attendance is important. No more than one class may be missed without a written note from your doctor.

There will be three tests on the dates listed.

Students are asked to write a term paper based on library research on a topic related to the course. Toward the end of the term, students will give ten minute reports on the subject of their term paper. Reports should make three points, as discussed in class. Please try not to read your report. You are welcome to discuss your report in advance with the professor.
